VOL. XXXIX. UPLAND, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, AUGUST 11, 1933. NO. 30

WM. ROHRIG NAMED LEMON GROUP HEAD TO FILL VACANCY

C. E. Harwood's Successor Is Chosen by Directors of Pioneer Association

LEAMAN NEW DIRECTOR

George W. Brown Advanced to Vice-President's Post in Election

William Rohrig, prominent citrus rancher here, is today president of the Upland Lemon Growers association. He becomes the second president of this pioneer citrus group, succeeding Charles E. Harwood, who served as president of the group from its beginning more than 30 years ago.

Mr. Rohrig was advanced by the board of directors from vice-president to the presidency at a special meeting of the group yesterday. George W. Brown, who has been a director, was named vice-president. To fill the vacancy on the board caused by the advancement of the two men, J. B. Leaman was named a director.

In electing a president, the directors acted in this manner for the first time in history. Always at the annual elections of the association, Mr. Harwood was re-elected, and his recent death took from the association its founder and leader.

In choosing a successor to the 103-year-old Uplander, the directors honored Mr. Rohrig, who has served the entire community on many citrus and water company boards. He is a large property owner, residing on Foothill boulevard between San Antonio and Mountain avenue.

Mr. Brown, a resident of Mountain avenue, is well qualified to hold the position of vice-president, due to his long contact with the citrus industry. Mr. Leaman is also well versed in the problems of the citrus grower and the industry in general.

Ladies Aid Plans Ice Cream Social on Tuesday Night

Plans for a benefit ice cream social to be held next Tuesday evening on the lawn of the Methodist church, were made Thursday morning during the meeting of the Methodist Ladies Aid society. The old-time social is designed to afford a pleasant evening for the church members and the public in general as well as to augment the fund in the Aid treasury.

Delicious home-made sherbet, ice cream and cake will be served throughout the entire evening, begining at 6;30.

Tables and chairs will be arranged in the patio and the Sunday school orchestra will provide music during the evening.

The leaders of the four circles of the Aid society will be in charge of the various arrangements with members of the circles assisting.

Everyone who would like to enjoy a pleasant social evening and to share in the refreshing ice cream and cherbet is cordially invited.

Dr. Matthews To Be Heard Here Aug. 27

Dr. John Matthews, minister of the First Radio Church of the World, Inc., will speak in the Mennonite church Aug. 27, at 10:40 a. m., according to C. U. Widmer, church official. He has been heard by many regularly over the air, and his coming here will be an important event for the city and the church members.

The Mennonite officials consider themselves very fortunate to have the opportunity to present Dr. Matthews here, and Mr. Widmer asked that many remember the date and plan to attend.

Mrs. Blackwell Smith and her son, Kingston, of New York, who are spending the summer here with Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Moremen, went to Long Beach Wednesday for a visit with Mrs. Smith's brother-in-law. and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Gentry McCorkle. They expect to return Sunday.

NRA Honor Roll of Local Employers Is On Display in City

Honor roll, showing the names of firms and individuals who have signed as members of the National Recovery Act, is displayed in the Upland post office, having been received from San Francisco. The roll lists the employers who have signified their intention of observing the rules and cooperating in President Roosevelt's re-employment program.

Additional names will be added when they are received from the department of commerce office in San Francisco. In signing the NRA agreement, the employers certify to the acceptance of the program, advising the San Francisco office and the local post office of the acceptance.

RETAIL MERCHANTS MUST GET PERMITS

Sales Tax Administrator In Upland Today to Leave Application Forms

W. C. Shay, son of Will Shay, pioneer cattleman of the county seat city, has been named agent of the state board of equalization for the collection of the sales tax in Upland and in all cities and districts of San Bernardino, Riverside, Inyo and Orange counties.

San Bernardino has been chosen by the equalization board as the headquarters of one of the 13 districts in the state.

Every retail merchant is required by terms of the state retail sales tax act to secure a permit to do retail business in the state of California, it was stated this morning by Mr. Shay, who was in Upland in connection with his official duties.

Application for these permits must be made before Aug. 30, Mr. Shay said. Those retailers who fail to make application by that time will be liable to a charge of misdemeanor.

Mr. Shay has left a supply of the applications at the local chamber of commerce office and he urges that the merchants of Upland secure the forms and turn in their applications as soon as possible.

The supply being made available locally will dispense with the trouble of driving to San Bernardino or writing to Sacramento for the forms.

A copy of the act may be read at the local chamber of commerce office or at Mr. Shay's office.

BALLOTING STARTS ON CHAMBER HEADS

Six New Directors of Civic Group Will Be Chosen Prior to Meeting

Twelve names are being voted on by the Upland chamber of commerce members to serve on the board of direcors for he next two years. The nominees were chosen by the six hold-over members of the board, who are Norman S. Lawson, Albert C. Reynolds, Wallace Taylor, Leigh Thompson, Owen E. Atwood and James E. Goodban.

The ballots are to be returned to the chamber office prior to the annual chamber meeting Aug. 31, and announcement of the newly elected directors will be a feature of the annual get-together.

Missionary and Aid Societies Meet for Important Sessions

Meeting at the church at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, members of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church enjoyed a very entertaining program presented by girls of the Queen Esther Standard Bearers.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. F. C. Buffington, the president, who conducted a brief business session and turned the meeting over to the program committee, Mrs. Lester P. Jones and Mrs. Bert Hendy, who presented the Standard Bearers. The devotional service was conducted by Janet Davis; Dorothy Cameron played a piano solo, and several of the girls presented an interesting missionary play, "The Unseen Voice."

At the conclusion of the missionary meeting the Ladies Aid society convened at 11 o'clock with Mrs. L. E. Moser presiding.

During the business session Mrs. J. T. Salisbury was elected secretary to succeed Mrs. Ralph Marr, who resigned because of other duties.

Some time was spent in planning for an ice cream social to be held next Tuesday night on the church lawn as a benefit for the Aid treasury. Home-made ice cream, sherbet and cake will be served, the leaders of the four circles being in charge.

Members of the N. E. W. circle of the Aid society have secured the agency for a refrigerator device, which they are selling to raise funds for the treasury.

Both the Missionary and the Aid society members participated in lunch served at noon.

Boundary Line To Govern Attendance At Local Schools

With the beginning of school here this fall a new rule concerning attendance at the Eighteenth street school and the Fannie D. Noe school will be in effect. The change was made by the local school board in June.

First grade students living north of a point midway between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets must attend the Eighteenth street school, and those living south of the line must attend the Fannie D. Noe school. This also applies to students up to the fifth grade, providing it does not conflict with their previous attendance at the local schools. In other words, a student living north of the line and who has been attending the Fannie D. Noe school, may continue to do so, but all new registrations will be affected by the new rule.

When the two schools were established it was generally understood that such a rule would be observed, but until this spring the school officials took no definite action to enforce attendance regulations as to location of the pupils' homes and the schools.

NUMBER ON LOCAL UNEMPLOYED LIST IN BIG REDUCTION

133 Sign Up for Work, While 211 Getting Work Short Time Ago

FEWER TRANSIENTS HERE

General Improvement in Conditions Believed To Be Reason for Change

Reduction of more than 30 per cent in the number of persons on Upland's unemployed relief list over a few weeks ago, was one strong indication today that conditions are improving. From the office of Chief of Police J. F. Sawyer also came the report that very few persons now enroll as "sleepers," while at this time a year ago many transients were permitted to sleep in the local jail during the night.

Avery S. Allen, chamber of commerce secretary, said that after 10 days of re-registering those eligible for relief work, 133 had signed up by this morning. At one time, 211 were actively on the list, receiving their share of work under the local program.

"I can't say definitely just what has improved the situatino, but it is apparent we don't have as many to plan for now as formerly," he said. "Some families have returned to their former homes in eastern states and it must be that some have gotten work some other place."

Several men, eligible for re-registering, have been unable to report to the local office, and Mr. Allen said that the total number likely to register is approximately 140.

At the peak of the local unemployed relief campaign here, many men were given a few days work on the local projects and the work relief program is still underway. Number seeking work now, however, has dropped noticeably and those in charge of the situation are greatly encouraged.

Falling Stars Presenting Vivid Display, With Climax Tomorrow

Falling stars can be seen tonight, with the most spectacular meteor streams of this month coming tomorrow night, according to the authority on such matters in this district, Dr. Ralph Larkin, noted educator and astronomer, of Claremont. The most famous meteor shower is known as the "Leonids," coming in November, Dr. Larkin said, but he placed the display for tomorrow night as the next in importance.

A few falling stars each hour can be observed, radiating from a point in the constellation Perseus, he explained.

While the best time for observing will be after midnight, they may be observed throughout the evening, although probably not in great numbers.

In general, the observer should face northeast, remembering, however, that the meteors may be seen in other directions than this. The point of special interest is to note their general direction in order to identify them as Perseids.

If they belong to this stream, if their directions of motion are noted and traced back toward a possible starting point before they become visible, they will all be found to converge at a point in Perseus.

Other meteors may be mingled with the Perseids but unless they travel in paths diverging from this radiant point they are not Perseids.

The Perseids are now connected in their path and origin with a comet known as Tuttle's comet.

Although on the face of it, it may not be obvious, it is interesting to know that whatever may be the direction in which Perseids seem to be moving, they are all in paths essentially parallel to each other.

Perseids are yellow in color and of medium velocity.

ALBERT BILLINGTON SUCCUMBS AT HOME

Well-Known Resident of City Dies Last Night—Funeral Saturday Afternoon

Succumbing to an illness of five weeks duration, Albert Billington, for many years a well-known resident of Upland, died at 11:30 Thursday night at his home, 263 Laurel avenue.

Mr. Billington was born in Hydes Mills, Wis., and was 73 years of age. He came to California and to Upland with his family 32 years ago and became interested in the citrus industry. For about 14 years he engaged in citrus growing, later disposing of all of his ranch property. He also operated a blacksmith shop for a number of years, but retired from all business in 1913.

Mr. Billington's wife preceded him in death by several years, her death occurring on Sept. 27, 1928.

Members of the family surviving Mr. Billington are two daughters, Mrs. Susan B. Mehl, dean of women at Chaffey high school, with whom he made his home, and Mrs. Wm. H. Korell of Pasadena; and three sons, Frank and Guy E. Billington of Upland and Hartley Billington of Orcutt.

Funeral service will be held Saturday afternoon at 3:30 in the Draper chapel in Ontario and interment will take place in Bellevue cemetery.

Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Stone and Mrs. Stone's mother, Mrs. Isabelle Tweed, had the pleasure of being dinner guests on a recent day of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Parsons at their home, 1574 North Hellman avenue, Alta Loma.

TWO INJURED WHEN DRIVER IS SLEEPY

Foothill Crash Early Today Sends Passengers to Hospital

Two persons were seriously injured early this morning when the driver, Sam Everetts, Los Angeles, is believed to have fallen asleep. He and Jean North, San Gabriel canyon, were the victims of the crash.

The machine was 10 feet off the Fothill boulevard pavement, a short distance west of the Randolph packing house, west of Upland, when it came to a disastrous stop. In its wild dash from the highway, the machine took its passengers on a dangerous ride that ended with Mr. Everetts receiving a severe back injury and the woman was hurt about the head and shoulders.

The accident occurred at 4:50 a. m., with the Stone ambulance taking the victims to the San Antonio Community hospital

Two Uplanders Get Early Season Deer

With two Uplanders getting the jump on the rest of the venison hunting sportsmen, interest is being centered on the opening of the deer season here Aug. 21.

Ernest H. Gibson returned Tuesday with a deer he got while visiting and hunting in the Santa Paula district. Mel Riggs, driver for the Pacific Electric bus between Upland and Ontario, is the other one getting a buck.

Opening of the season will mean considerable activity on the part of many in the Upland district.

Kentuckians in Local Camp Become Acquainted With City Enjoy Theatre, Surroundings

The boys from Kentucky who are enrolled as members of the Civilian Conservation corps camp in San Antonio canyon will long remember the canyon, Upland and California in general, as indicated by the interest shown in this locality by the group. In the Etiwanda camp, also, are persons whose homes are in other sections of the state, who will look back on the happy days spent in Upland and Day canyon. The group now at Etiwanda was originally located in Upland.

To the Kentuckians, however, their six months' enrollment in the C. C. C. organization seems to them more like a vacation The work on forest projects is heavy, but the conditions are congenial, the surroundings pleasant and the hours of recreation bring diversion and education.

By the scores these Kentuckians attend the Studio theatre every week. They gradually make friends among local youths and become well acquainted with the community and surroundings. When "good times" return and the boys are taken home it is likely many of them will eventually come back here and locate.

This state offers more opportunities for work in the forests than some sections and that is one of the reasons why the group from Kentucky was brought here. Another reason was to give the youths a broader viewpoint of the nation. Many of the California members of the C. C. C. organization were taken to other states.

Only boys whose parents are financially destitute are eligible for camp membership, each youth earning $30 a month. Twenty-five dollars of this sum is sent direct by the government to the parents of the boys, $5 being paid to the camp members.

Garey Carr of the Studio theatre cooperates with the youths in permitting them to see the local shows. With the pay oftentimes not lasting very long, Mr. Carr permits the boys to charge their admission price, he getting the admission money when pay day comes again.

The camps bring together youths of varied backgrounds. Some plan to be engineers, others look to the medical profession and several in the San Antonio canyon camp are vitally interested in the local citrus industry.

With much leisure time, the camp members have opportunities to display their musical talents as well as their abilities in entertaining as sleight-of-hand artists, actors and the like.

The men originally enrolled for six months, but it is likely this time will be extended, and that additional camps will be established.

RESERVOIR AWAITS OUTCOME OF CITY'S $75,000 LOAN PLEA

Plans Being Prepared for 75 Million Gallon Project on 15th Street

CITY ASKS FEDERAL AID

Officials Hope to Get Fund and Start Immediately On Local Relief

With it uncertain if the city of Upland will get a $75,000 loan from the federal works program, preparations are being made today for the construction of a five million gallon reservoir. If the money is received, construction on the project can be started immediately and thus several score of local, permanent residents will be engaged on the work.

Richard G. Manley, city service manager, said the city's application for the loan has been filed, along with many other applications from Southern California counties and municipalities. No one is in a position yet to state if the loan will be granted, but due to the city's excellent financial condition, the outlook is encouraging.

Tentative plans for the huge reservoir call for it to be located on East Fifteenth street, near the present three-quarter of a million-gallon capacity reservoir. It is to be approximately 400 feet long and 200 feet wide, built of concrete.

Construction of the reservoir is in the city's schedule of needed improvements. Under normal conditions, it is unlikely that it would be built now, but due to the possibility of getting federal aid, the municipal officials are making preparations for the project.

The reservoir was included in a recent list of municipal improvements to be made from time to time, and Mr. Manley was working on the detailed plans today and these plans will be used soon or at a later time when the city water department would of itself finance the project.

On the jury are W. E. Boulton, Thomas Harris, Mrs. Steve Allee, F. W. Williams, W. F. Dettweiler, Amos Colborn, Mrs. Robert Stump, Mrs. Cecil Myers, Marion Grothe, Mrs. H. C. Kennedy, W. W. Horak and Franklin Baxter.

S. Lehman's former police car being attractively decorated with poppies.

Many members of the local post and the Auxiliary will attend the three-day conclave, with Gene Nisbet, retiring commander of the local post, Herman Cordes, incoming commander. Jack Howe and Earl Marsh, the delegates.

As the convention closes, Thomas E. Howarton will officially assume his duties as commander of the 21st district of the Legion, he being recently elected.

The Legion council meeting was held Tuesday at Fontana, with the following in attendance from here: Charles Benson, Clair E. Kirk, Dwight Ellis, Gene Nisbet, Thomas Howarton, Jack Howe, Beecher Hungerford and Earl Marsh.

Building Permits Jump as New Work, Remodeling Start

Building permits in Upland will take a big jump when the August totals are compiled, as the result of the number of permits already issued by Ted Combs, building inspector.

Construction of a service station for Paul Fetrow and moving of the Union Ice Co.'s retail plant to Mr. Fetrow's new business site at First avenue and C street, called for a $1000 permit.

Remodeling of a residence at 725 Washington boulevard by the Magnolia Building and Loan association, will cost $900, with W. C. Jones in charge of the work. William Morton has obtained a permit for the reconstruction of a chicken house on his West Ninth street property at a cost of $300.

Much work is also being done on the residence recently sold by J. Lynward Grahame at Second avenue and Arrow highway. The property is now owned by Mrs. W. H. Craig, Sr.

UPLANDER MAY WIN AUXILIARY VOTING

Mrs. Earl Marsh Candidate for Vice-President of State Women's Group

Mrs. Earl E. Marsh, prominent member of the Upland American Legion Auxiliary, is one of the candidates for vice-president of the California department of the auxiliary organization, the election to be held as a closing feature of the state Legion Auxiliary convention in Pasadena Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Marsh

Due to her varied activities in the local unit and in the state organization, she is conceded a very strong chance to get the election. A member of the local unit for 12 years, she has held many of the offices and her executive ability has been recognized by the auxiliary members in the southland, she having been president of the 21st district and of the fifth area.

Mrs. Marsh is one of the delegates to the Pasadena convention, along with Mrs. William J. Larkin and Mrs. Herbert Metz. Alternate delegates are Mrs. Richard G. Manley, Mrs. Sam Lamb and Mrs. Francis Rogers.

TAX RATES WILL BE FIXED SOON

Amount Property Owners Are To Pay Will Be Lower—High Rate Likely

Property owners in the Upland district will soon learn what their tax bill will be for the new year, with an official announcement expected here soon of the assessed valuation for the city and for the county.

C. E. Grier, chairman of the county board of supervisors, said that without a doubt, the county tax rate would be higher than though the valuation figure had not been reduced, but he was confident the actual tax bill would be lowest in many years.

Budget for the city is virtually established, although there is a possibility of some fund being provided for unemployment relief work. At any rate, the fund for the actual operation of the regular city government will be lower than in many years.

The unofficial valuation figure for the city is $2,942,210 for this year, as compared with $3,485,030 for last year.

T. E. Anderson of Lindsay, brother of J. Fred Anderson, of Upland, is making rapid recovery following his serious illness. He has been removed from the hospital to his home, according to the Uplander.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley H. Plum of Culver City are spending part of their vacation visiting in Upland at the home of his mother, Mrs. Barbara Plum, and with his broher and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Plum.

FREAKISH WEATHER EXPERIENCED HERE WHEN RAIN FALLS

Thunder Storm and Rain Bring High Degree of Heat To This Section

SEVENTH RAIN IN AUGUST

Records Since 1891 Show Only Few Times Rain Has Come in August

With the temperature registering 105 at 11 a. m. at the office of the Liberty Groves Operating corporation on Nineteenth street, and a high degree of heat in the down town section, residents of Upland and vicinity were treated to a bit of real eastern weather today when they experienced the phenomena of rain, hail, thunder and lightning—all on an August day.

Showers fell for several minutes over a wide area, teh amount of rain varying in many places. In some sections on the eastern edge of the city a light hail was reportel and in areas to the north and east heavy showers fell for a few minutes.

Only six other times since 1891 has rain fallen in August, according to the record kept by A. P. Harwood and J. R. Johnston. In August, 1894, .34 inches of rain fell; .60 in August, 1896; .02 in 1909; .30 in 1915; .27 in 1918, and .02 in August, 1922.

The high humidity accompanying the intense heat is providing weather that is very uncomfortable for the Californian.

Memorial Services For G. A. R. Officer Held by Daughters

A short memorial service held in the memory of the recently deceased W. P. Wright, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., featured the meeting last night of Mary Brainard Tent, Daughters of Union Veterans, when the members gathered in the American Legion club house.

The tent charter was draped in honor of the late commander-in-chief., and an interesting talk on his life was made by Commander Alois Podrasnik, who was a personal friend of Commander Wright, having been a fellow officer with him in the Civil War.

The routine business of the tent was conducted by the president, Mrs. W. M. Stevens, and an invitation was extended by Mrs. Amy Frost to the tent to hold a social meeting at her home, 535 East Ninth street, on the afternoon and evening of Thursday, Aug. 24.

The meeting closed with a social hour, during which refreshments were served.

Scenic Highway for Forest Being Sought

An effort to develop the scenic atractions in the San Bernardino mountains is being made by officials of the county. The third unit of the new mountain highway between Camp Angelus and the south fork of the Santa Ana river was accepted by the county supervisors this week. The officials also asked the continued cooperation of the federal government in continuation of the Barton Flats road to Big Bear valley.

"Early construction of the highway will be welcomed as an unemployed relief project and would attract tourists from great distances to these added scenic advantages that would be available when the highway is completed," C. E. Grier, supervisor, said. He proposed the resolution that was sent to C. H. Sweetser, district engineer of the bureau of public works.

Mr. Sweetser will be asked to take steps immediately for a survey of the extension from the new Barton Flats road through the timber and rugged mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley W. Mather and family returned last evening to their home on Laurel avenue, after a vacation of three weeks spent with Mrs. Mather's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Shaw, in Chico. Part of the time was spent with their relatives camping in the mountains where they escaped the excessive heat.

The One Blessing of the Sales Tax

Under the above heading the Claremont Courier says editorially:

"The most unpopular tax ever levied will be the sales tax. That's because the man in ordinary or average circumstances is always kidding himself the other fellow is paying the tax. And that is because so much of our tax is either indirect or disguised.

"If all governmental expenses were collected in direct tax, government would not cost one-half what it does now. When school expense grew into enormous proportions in California, few took any interest because public utilities paid a large share of it and part of the rest came from the county. So why economize or do anything to prevent expansion of education when money for it came from the county and the state and hated and bloated corporations paid the state's expenditures? Thus we reasoned.

"But now we are taxing real estate less and soon utilities will be returned to the counties for taxation purposes. About $100,000,000 is to be collected from the consuming public to pay for schools and state governmental expenses. And will it hurt!

"So, we repeat, the main blessing of the sales tax will be to make voters tax conscious and take steps to reduce cost of government. So long as voters don't squawk, members of the legislature will go right ahead granting requests of organized groups for more government and more expensive government. Maybe voters will wake up and not elect a governor who is a known spendthrift."

We do not believe the sales tax will be as unpopular as the Courier thinks—after it has been in operation long enough for the people to judge the fairness of it. In other states where this form of tax has been given a trial it has been continued because of the demand of the residents of those states. Certainly, there should be no one who is benefitted by the government of the United States who would wish to shirk in paying his just proportion of its upkeep. With the sales tax in operation everyone who makes purchases pays in proportion to the amount of such purchases. To those who do not buy much the tax is very small, while those who are able and do spend large amounts pay in just that proportion.

And there is this one thing about it—there is no getting out of paying the tax. Under our customary method of taxing there are many who can afford to pay large amounts who pay very little. The ways in which tax payments are evaded were brought out in the recent hearings in Washington. Furthermore, we do not believe there should be any such thing as tax exempt securities or bonds of any kind. It is only those who are able to pay large amounts in taxes who are also able to own such securities in large amounts.

If the sales tax had been in force in years past there would not now be loaded upon the people of California—and other states—the vast tax burden they are now bearing. As the Courier indicates, had every citizen been paying their share of taxes it would not have been possible for some to vote taxes upon others and not upon themselves also. Too many non-taxpayers reasoned that it did not cost them anything, so why not get all they could—at the expense of somebody else. With the sales tax in force that will be a thing of the past.

Are the Drys Quitters

Several days ago there appeared in the Los Angeles Times an editorial under the above caption. It no doubt appealed to a good many readers of that paper as it did to several of our good subscribers, who suggested that we reproduce it in The News—and we are giving same below:

"If anybody fools himself that the drys will sit down and make repeal unanimous, he doesn't know their temper.

"The International Christian Endeavor convention recently met in the wettest spot in the country (Milwaukee) and served notice that youth hasn't given up the fight.

"Once before the Endeavorers adopted a slogan—in 1911—'A Saloonless Nation by 1920!' It came on schedule time.

"The Endeavorers have planned to launch a reorganized fight upon alcoholic liquor. 'In the name of the best interests of childhood, youth, the home and our beloved America, we urge all to vote and work against such a traffic, whether it be legal or illegal.' This is the new belt they are buckling up.

"The Christian Endeavor movement stands for interracial, interdenominational, international effort. 'Inter' is the big idea with it. It comprises the youngsters of many Christian denominations who regard life as a crusade.

"They overleap the barriers the fathers set up. They know no divisions, save between right and wrong. They believe not only in independence, but in interdependence."

Says Edgar A. Guest: "Happiness in life comes from appreciating the little things." And that little statement speaks a big truth. The great trouble with the people in these days is the fact that it takes something big or exciting to give them joy. They go from one pleasure to another, tiring of the many little things that formerly meant so much to people in other days. They do not get a "kick" out of the things they used to enjoy. One trouble with the human race in this advanced age is that there are too many places to go and too many things to see—and everything has become commonplace. There is no doubt about it—the people who are content and enjoy the little things are the most contented and happy.

One of the real proofs that industrial recovery is on the way is the marked increase in the number of depositors in savings banks of the National Association of Savings Banks. A recent report shows that there are now 13,300,000 having such deposits in these banks, this number showing the marked increase of 35,087 during the first six months of this year and is not far from being a record. The president of the association says he considers this increase in depositors and the swelling of the accounts to a new high figure of $1,171,733,818 as a highly favorable indication of the improvement in financial affairs. The mutual savings plan is not in vogue on this coast, but is popular in the east.

"If you do make out a sales tax you go to Patton—and if you don't, to San Quentin," says the Beverly Hills Citizen. If you know just what to tax and how much—you're a wizard.

We have just read that all radio announcers are college graduates. However, we'll venture the assertion that the colleges are not bragging about it.

Other Editors' Ideas

One Advantage of a Sales Tax

Claremont Courier: There is one advantage of the sales tax: the little fellow who worries so little about taxes—because he has little or none to pay—that he blithely goes to the polls and votes for bond issues, will now find that after all a part of this governmental expense comes out of his pocket. All should pay some tax—the spender as well as the saver.

There is a theory only the frugal, those who have saved, and the rich should pay taxes. A few should pay taxes, the many should not. The sales tax will remedy that basic fault. When all pay to support government, all will take more interest in cost of government.

The legislature has fixed a temporary retail sales tax of 2½ per cent. It will be expensive to collect and, in many cases, difficult to collect, but might be an experiment in the right direction.

There has, after all, been precious little reduction in cost of state government at Sacramento. Many bills leading to lower cost were vetoed by Governor Rolph. A few minor ones were made law over his veto.

There is to be a shift, however, in who is to pay the tax. Real estate has been relieved to an extent, but this loss must be made up from other sources—mostly from a retail sales tax, perhaps partly by income tax.

A still higher tax is placed on beer. The legislature recklessly kills the goose that was about to lay golden eggs. Beer users have already gone back to the bootleg variety because of the high cost of legal beer. There is no better way to kill income from legal beer or any liquor than to put a high tax and high price on it.

There is reasonable ground for opposition to a law restricting voters to taxpayers but the law makes taxpayers out of voters.

"Gone to the Dogs"

San Jose Mercury-Herald: Devastating results have followed the young San Francisco bank clerk's get-rich-quick attempt via dog race betting. First he lost his own money; then he lost his wife's; finally he embezzled—and lost—$1400 of the bank's money to the coursing hounds.

After discovery of the defalcation he lost his job and his good name; and, in effect, his liberty, for he was placed on five years' probation by the court, with orders to report at stated intervals to the probation officer.

The latest loss hanging over him is the loss of his wife, who last week filed suit for divorce and "reasonable alimony."

Two of a Kind

Claremont Courier: Hutton is doing a solo in vaudeville, cashing in as did What-a-man and Ma Kennedy. He has jokes like the following: "Yes, this is the city of the angels; I married one of them," or "Do you know the latest haircut? Trimmed at the temple." That temple woman who threw fresh eggs at him would have been pardoned had she used the other kind.

The question is, which one was stung the worst—Aimee or David.

Endless first-page copy is in the making.

LONE HILL IDEAL SPOT FOR RODEO

Quarter-Mile Track Is Being Built—Hope to Make Event Annual One at Upland

A more ideal spot could not be found to stage a rodeo than the location picked by the San Bernardino county division of the California Highway Patrol for the rodeo they will stage at Upland on Sept. 9 and 10. The big event will be staged at Lone Hill, just north of Foothill boulevard, a short distance north of the location where a former rodeo was held some years ago. The slope of the hill at this point is more gradual than the previous location and good seats will be erected, including a number of box seats. Authorities in charge of the affair have had water piped to the location from the Red Hill' Country club grounds, a distance of 800 feet. A quarter-mile track is being built and the track and grounds will be placed in first class condition, eliminating dust and insuring the comfort of the large number expected to attend.

The big event is being staged as a benefit for the widows and orphans of highway patrolmen who met their death while in the discharge of their hazardous duties, and will feature Hoot Gibson's famous bucking horses and wild Brahma bulls. There will be many contests of cowboy skill and liberal prizes are being offered. The program will consist of calf roping, wild calf riding, bulldozing, bucking horses, bull riding and many other thrills and there will be plenty of the cowboys here to go after the prize money.

Hoot Gibson himself will be present, as will also his right-hand man, Skeeter Bill Robbins. Besides Mr. Gibson there will be many other movie stars at the show, but it is too early at this time to announce the list.

It is hoped to make this rodeo an annual event at this location and all that is necessary for it to become so is sufficient patronage at the event on Sept. 9 and 10.

Postal Job Described in 20-30 Club Address by Postmaster

History of the United States postal department, a story of its rapid growth, and a picture of its present size were presented by Loring N. Kirk, Upland postmaster, at the meeting of the Upland 20-30 club in the Sycamore Inn Tuesday night. His address was one of the most interesting and instructive heard by the club in recent months. Lewis Chaney, local baker and vice-president of the club, was program chairman.

"Every year the postoffice service reaches more people and renders more service than any other single business in the world, and here are some of the things it does," Mr. Kirk said.

"Every 12 months it handles approximately 27,951,548,106 pieces of mail. Every year the increase in number of pieces handled over the year before is more than one million. Of the above figures given 15½ million are letters. This load of mail is estimated to total 227,355 tons.

"Every second in the day 490 letters are dropped into letter boxes; every minute, 29,431, and every hour, 1,765,904. If you will give a thought to the number of hands that these letters must pass through before they reach the addressee, you will wonder at the speed with which they travel. Twenty-four billion pieces of mail are handled annually and there have been less than a billion minutes since the birth of Christ.

53,000 Postmen

To serve every man and every business, it takes 53,000 postmen to rush these letters to you, in millions of homes and business houses. In every city, rural district and the far out of the way places, Uncle Sam's mailman is seen doing his duty that you may be in daily touch with loved ones and the business world. Total of 43,178 rural carriers supply mail to the farmer, 6,875,321 families or 25,471,735 individuals get their mail at their homes through sunshine or storm on rural routes. In the Unitah valley in the state of Utah the postoffice has established an automobile railroad 125 miles long into a fruitful valley reached only by this means from outside of the valley, as no private rail line has penetrated it.

Some of you may have had this thought, who does the work and when is it done?

The postoffice has in its employ more than 383,000 workers. Besides the 53,762 letter carriers there are 72,015 clerks, 43,178 rural carriers, 49,063 postmasters, 21,185 railway mail clerks. The 49,063 postmasters run as many postoffices. There being one postoffice for every 60 square miles of territory.

"The 383,000 postal employees are paid approximately $610,000,000 annually for their services. The mail service never stops, night or day, sunshine or rain, storm or flood, there is a way, and a will, and the mail goes through.

Paul Revere Among First

"In 1770 mail was carried by post riders. Paul Revere was one of these.

13 Per Cent Drop in Motor Crash Deaths

A recent analysis of traffic accident records throughout the United States shows there was a decrease of approximately 13 per cent in the number of motor vehicle fatalities last year. There were 29,000 deaths in 1932, and more or less serious injuries were sustained by about 905,000 persons, but in 1931 the total of deaths was 33,500, with more than 1,120,000 injured.

The McClellands See Interesting Ports On Long Voyage

Mr. and Mrs. S. G. McClelland and their daughter, Miss Lela McClelland, who are making a leisurely ocean trip to New York, are having a most interesting time, according to a letter just received by Mrs. Nellie Speck, 432 Campus avenue.

The letter, written on July 30 aboard the steamship Santa Cecilia, stated they expected to reach Havana, Cuba, on the next day, which was before the beginning of the present labor war in progress there.

The letter, in part, follows:

We are plowing through the Caribbean sea on our way to Havana. We expect to arrive there tomorrow morning and will remain until 8 p. m. We have had a fine trip so far, much cooler than we had expected. This is the rainy season and it rains every day. The vegetation is wonderful, so green and beautiful, and the tropical shrubs and flowers are gorgeous.

Our first stop was at Manzanillo, Mexico, a picturesque little village perched upon a hill amid lovely shrubs and palms, with spots of color here and there where the flame trees flaunt their gorgeous red blossoms. This view is from a distance. Up close the nouses are seen to be miserable huts with palm thatched roofs. They consist of one room with dirt floor, upon which the family, the goat, pig, chickens or what have you sleep at night and the cooking is done by day. The family swing their blankets up above the animals.

There are flies, flies, flies!

La Union, El Salvador, was very interesting. The houses are nearly all adobe with tile roofs and the streets are of cobblestone. The people have the freedom of the streets, stores and homes while the lank dogs chase long-legged chickens up and down and the geese waddle hither and yon.

The market is in a huge patio-like square and never have I seen such dirt. It simply cannot be described. Everywhere the native children run around without even a stitch on. When it rains here it pours. A sudden shower came up and we took refuge in a church where some natives were saying their prayers.

It was dark when we started back to the ship and we rode on a little train with an engine so small that, in comparison with our locomotives, it looked like an Austin beside a Pierce-Arrow. The cars had no lights and the conductor collected the tickets by candle light.

In most of these small towns transportation is by oxen and the carts having huge five-inch wheels of solid cedar or mahogany three inches thick. Wish you could see them piled full of bananas, pineapples, cocoanuts, papayas, mangoes and avocados. We can eat the fruit but would not care for it as a steady diet. Like California fruit better.

The trip through the Panama canal was wonderful. Fortunately it was cool and a little cloudy so the glare was not hard on our eyes.

It is now lunch time. We have breakfast from 8 to 9, bouillon on deck at 10:30, lunch from 1 to 2, tea and cakes at 4 p. m., dinner from 7 to 8, and a late snack at 10:30. So with a little fruit between times we manage to get along. So far none of us have been seasick.

Garden flowers were used in the house decorations and a luncheon of charming appointments was served.

Bridge was played during the afternoon with high score prize going to Mrs. C. A. Baeuerlen. Second high score award was won by Mrs. R. C. Norton.

Many Members Enjoy Meeting of Upland Thimble Club

Drawing the largest attendance noted at any meeting of the club this year, the combined business and social session held by the Upland Thimble club of the Neighbors of Woodcraft Tuesday night at the home of Miss Mary Hedrick in Chino, provided a most interesting evening.

During the early part of the evening the business meeting was held, being conducted by Mrs. Walter Hewitt, vice-president. Mrs. May Hotchkiss was elected president of the club, succeeding Mrs. Norton, who recently resigned that office.

For some time following the business session the women sewed industriously, a large amount of work being accomplished.

Late in the evening the women joined the men in a social hour when refreshments were served and a card tourney was enjoyed.

Although, as the name implies, sewing is the principal objective of the club, a number of men are included in the membership, their presence adding to the social pleasures of the meetings. The men further justify their attendance at the meetings by claiming their praising of the fine needlework and the excellent refreshments is encouraging to the feminine members of the club.

Guests of Miss Hedrick Tuesday night were Mrs. Amos Burkholder, Mrs. Walter Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Carlton, Miss Amy Ann Hewitt, F. W. Clark, Charles Walden, Charles Hogan, Newell Carlton, Thomas Hamm, and Rewell E. Carlton, all of Upland; Mrs. May Hotchkiss, Mrs. Katherine Hamm, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bell, Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, Miss Hettie Brown, Miss Estelle Cagel, Leo Hardeman, and Tex Gates, all of Ontario; Miss Mildred Bowling, Miss Edna Harris, Miss Doloris Jean Bowling, Mrs. Noah Bowling and A. G. Harris, of Chino, and Mrs. Elsie Broyles, Mrs. Mary Bernie and Mrs. Peggy Jean Everetts of Pomona.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs S. F. Carlton on San Bernardino road.

Nurses of West End Go to Canyon for Picnic Meeting

Mrs. Wm. H. Craig's cabin in San Antonio canyon was the scene of a delightful picnic party Monday evening when members of the West End Nurses club gathered there for their monthly meeting.

Meeting first at the home of Mrs. Carmen S. Lehman, 1068 Euclid avenue, the nurses and their guests went in a group to the canyon cabin, where a picnic Spanish supper was enjoyed.

An informal social evening followed the supper, part of the time being spent down by the stream near the cabin. The canyon was beautiful in the bright moonlight and much of the evening was spent out of doors.

Guests of the nurses were Dr. Mary Craig Williamson and her mother, Mrs. Wm. H. Craig, the nurses present being Mrs. Harriet L. Fleming, Mrs. Carmen S. Lehman, Mrs. Irene Kleckner, Mrs. Lucille Austin Barnhart, Mrs. Myrta Baker, Miss Marcia Cadnum, Miss Elizabeth Bell, Miss Venca Snodgrass, Miss Iva Renstrom, Miss Genevieve Bickmore, Miss Mae Newquist, Miss Mildred Ripp, Miss Cornelia Merry, Miss Nettie Stutzman, Miss Ann Puehler, and Miss Helen Nance.

Miss Uarda Hill Is Guest at Surprise Birthday Picnic

Planning a most delightful birthday surprise for Miss Uarda Hill, who is atending the Riverside Library school in Riverside, a group of friends and relatives gathered last evening in Fairmount park for a picnic.

Miss Hill knew nothing of the plans for the evening and was most happily surprised.

After a tempting picnic supper was served, a pleasant social evening was enjoyed, boating on the lake being one of the amusements.

Attending the outdoors party were the birthday honoree, Miss Hill, Miss Ruth Sprinkle, and George Handshy, of Riverside; Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Hocker, Gail Hocker and Melvin Hocker, of Pomona; Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Hill of 428 Euclid avenue, parents of Miss Hill, Miss Hulda M. Runge and Warren S. Guy, all of Upland.

Mrs. Mack Bergstrom Guest of Honor at Bridge Luncheon

Providing an opportunity for friends of Mrs. Louis Weber to spend an afternoon with her sister, Mrs. Mack Bergstrom of Salt Lake City, Mrs. Stanley C. Bartholomew entertained with a bridge luncheon Thursday at her home, 940 East Arrow highway.

Zinnias and pink amaryllis were used in the very attractive house decorations and Mrs. Bartholomew served a tempting luncheon menu.

An interesting bridge tourney occupied the attention of the guests for some time during the afternoon and animated conversation also was enjoyed.

Guests of Mrs. Bartholomew were Mrs. Bergstrom, Mrs. Weber, Mrs. Howard C. Everetts, Mrs. C. K. Francisco, Mrs. F. H. Manker, Mrs. James T. Hendricks and Mrs. Una R. Winter.

Mrs. Parsons Hostess at Delightful Tea for Church Women

Responding to an invitation from Mrs. W. J. Parsons, some 35 members of the Woman's Missionary society of the Upland Presbyterian church gathered at her home, 1574 North Hellman avenue, Alta Loma, Thursday afternoon and enjoyed a most delightful tea, the hours being from 2 to 5 o'clock.

Lovely garden flowers were used in the house decorations and graced the handsomely appointed tea table, at which Mrs. J. W. Bryden and Mrs. Elizabeth Moore presided.

During the afternoon the hostess presented an entertaining program, including several violin numbers by her nephew, Stewart Parsons, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Claudine Renfro, two piano solos by Charlotte Parsons and a reading by Ruth Emily Parsons, both youthful daughters of the hostess, and a reading by Mrs. Robert E. Van Ness.

An opportunity was given the guests to make a voluntary offering for the missionary fund.

The large group of guests sharing in Mrs. Parsons' hospitality declared the afternoon to be a very happy occasion.

Not Too Hasty

She: Don't you love driving on a night like this?

He: Yes, but I thought I'd wait until I got further out in the country.

"I married my wife because she was different from the other women I had met."

"How was that?"

"She was the only woman who would have me."

Approved Pictures Coming to Theatre Within Short Time

The Upland Motion Picture Council, in cooperation with the Studio theatre, presents the following list of approved pictures coming to the Studio theatre, with what seems to be the average estimate of the various review committees:

For family: "Be Mine Tonight," from Aug. 16 to 23 inclusive. This is a picture that is worth seeing and hearing several times because not only are the plot and acting delightful but the tenor voice compares so favorably with Caruso's that any lover of music will want to hear it more than once. The Studio theatre equipment is well adapted for this kind of picture.

Other approved family pictures are "Mayor of Hell," Aug. 31-Sept. 1-2; "California Trail," western, Sept. 9, matinee. "Somewhere in Sonora," western, Saturday matinee, Sept. 16.

For adults and adolescents: "Eagle and the Hawk," Ang. 10, 11, 12; "The Nuisance," Sept. 3-4; "Heroes For Sale" (very harrowing)' Sept. 5-6; "Voltaire," Sept. 21, 22, 23. This is very good with George Arliss, not interesting for children.

For adults: "Today We Live," Aug. 13, 14, 15; "College Humor," Aug. 24, 25, 26; "Reunion in Vienna," Aug. 27-28; "When Ladies Meet," Sept. 7-8.

Pictures of rwhich no decided estimate is obtainable are left out of this list, as are any that for some reason are "not recommended." For further information call Mrs. Leon Durham or Mrs. J. H. Freeman.

Postal Work Told in Address by L. N. Kirk

express riders and carried mail from St. Joseph, Mo., to Sacramento in ten days. Then came the stage coach in 1783 with an average speed of 3½ miles per hour. The steam railway came in 1834, but railway mail service did not come into being until 1840. The first airplane to carry mail was in 1918. Air mail service between San Francisco and New York in 1924 took two days and three hours and today it takes 21 hours; 16 hours to Chicago. The public appreciates the air mail service as was shown the five days following the recent earthquake, when the volume of air mail increased 238 per cent over the five preceding days.

When the postage rates were changed recently and a reduction was made in the rate of mail for delivery from the office of origin to two cents per ounce, many people thought the letter rates to other offices should have been reduced so that all first class mail rates would have been the same. But Uncle Sam carries on the postal service at a loss. At the present time the department loses six cents on every money order, 14 cents on every C. O. D. parcel and every registered piece of mail goes at a loss to the department. The rural mails have always been operated at a heavy loss, these losses and also free service of various kinds is afforded all because the principle of the postoffice department is the maintenance of the highest degree of efficiency of intercommunication between man and man, city and city, and state and state.

13 Employed Here

"The office force of Upland's postoffice consists of the following employees: postmaster, assistant postmaster, four clerks, three carriers, rural carrier, two substitute clerk-carriers and a railway mail messenger.

"We must sell enough postage paper such as stamps, postal cards and envelopes, to pay the operating expense of the office with the exception of the rural carrier, who is paid by the San Francisco office. It is the duty of all of you to purchase your stamps at home as on our sales depend the number of employees and the amount of the salary of the postmaster and the assistant postmaster, and the rating of the office.

"We daily serve over 7000 patrons, the rural carrier has over 500 boxes to serve and has handled as high as 1700 pieces of mail on a single trip. The city carrier's load must not exceed 50 pounds when he leaves the office. I do not mean to say by that, that he always starts out with 50 pounds, but he always has a load. He walks an average of 15 miles a day and serves 400 families. We have seven mails in and 10 mails out each day except Sundays and holidays, when we have three mails in and two mails out. We have fine air mail connections, and the service of dispatch and receipts are as good as found any place.

"At any time you feel that you are not getting the service you should, or that you wish to ask any question regarding the service, or have a suggestion to offer for the betterment of the service, call and talk it over with your postmaster and he will do all in his power as far as he is permitted by the rules of the department, to correct any trouble, answer any question if he knows the answer, and will admit it if he doesn't know, and consider your helpful suggestions."

Some Service

"You probably don't remember me," began the self-made man proudly, "but thirty years ago when I was a poor, humble boy, you gave me a message to deliver."

"Yes, yes," cried the busy man, "where's the answer?"

REV. HOSTETTLER WILL RETURN HERE

Former Pastor of Mennonite Church To Succeed Rev. Neuenschwander

Rev. Lester Hostettler, former pastor of the Upland Mennonite church, has been called back to the local church and he will arrive in Upland from the east early next month. Since leaving here about four years ago, Rev. Hostettler has been preaching at Sugar Creek, Ohio.

Following his attendance at the general conference of the Mennonite church this month, Rev. Hostettler and family will leave for Upland. During his previous stay here he gained many friends due to his versatile ability and leadership.

Rev. Hostettler will succeed the Rev. A. J. Neuenschwander, who has served the local church four years. Rev. and Mrs. Neuenschwander and family left Upland Monday, going from here to Berne, Indiana, and from there Rev. Neuenschwander will go to Bluffton, Ohio, for the general conference of the church.

POLICE SEEK TO ASSIST PUBLIC

Work of Local Department and Officers in General Is Told by Sawyer

The Upland police department is doing everything possible to serve Uplanders, but some things are not within the power of the officers, or come within the duties of police, Chief of Police J. F. Sawyer said in a talk at the meeting of the Upland Lions club at the Red Hill Country club yesterday noon.

Criminal courts, he said, cannot be used as means of collecting money from one who has issued a fictitious check or from one in an automobile accident, Mr. Sawyer said. Oftentimes, the police are asked to arrest [illegible] driving [illegible] to accident having [illegible] defendant [illegible] he [illegible] aining witness.

Mr. Sawyer pointed out that officers have to be careful not to make an arrest without proper evidence of the person being guilty.

He said that laws and court procedure favor the defendant to such an extent that a conviction of a guilty person is oftentimes frustrated. Juries are easily swayed and influenced, he said, declaring that oftentimes after a guilty person has been convicted, he is given probation. In general, he said, criminals in this state are treated too well and that the punishment is sure enough to deter criminals.

"Many people have the impression that police should be at every auto accident, but that is not so," the officer continued. We try to go whenever called, but we are required to be at accidents only in case someone is injured."

Charles Pooler, of the Upland Electric Co., was welcomed as a member of the club. Venison was served due to the successful hunting trip made by Ernest H. Gibson.

"Officer, for your own good, so to speak, when Allura Dairy's milk wagon passes you every morning, you'd better grab a bottle of milk. Heavy food is making you too prominent."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The words of the Psalmist, "My soul thirsteth for God, for the living God," constitute the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Soul" on Sunday in all Christian Science churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

One of the Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon includes the verses from Matthew. "Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me. For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it. For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?"

Among the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, is the statement: "Dost thou love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This command includes much, even surrender of all merely material sensation, affection, and worship. This is the El Dorado of Christianity."

Loyal Temperance Legion Has Total Enrollment of 53

With 28 members in atendance the Loyal Temperance Legion met in the basement of the Presbyterian church Wednesday morning at 9:30, and during the business session four new members were received, the total membership now being 53.

Evelyn Spies, president, and Gretchen Hitt, secretary, conducted the meeting, which was opened with assembly singing and prayer by Mrs. Ralph H. Marr.

The business given attention included planning for the temperance medal contest and Mrs. F. B. Harn, chairman of the contest committee, told of preparations being made to give the children proper instruction before the contest starts. Mrs. Harn is being assisted by Mrs. Marr and Mrs. J. H. Freman.

Other business matters considered were plans for a demonstration to be made by members of the Loyal Temperance Legion at the San Bernardino county W. C. T. U. convention to be held in Redlands on Sept. 7, and the reception of new members.

A roundtable discussion of temperance matters was held and rally cries and songs were led by Dell Applebury and Mrs. Marr, with Eevelyn Spies at the piano.

Ernest Farmer gave an excellent review of the temperance story told last week and Mrs. R. E. Van Ness read another story. Closing the meeting, the children marched to music to the hall where a refreshing fruit drink was served.

Adults assisting with the meeting were Mrs. S. E. Spies, Mrs. Hitt, Mrs. Marr, Mrs. Lewis Jenison, Mrs. Amy Frost, Mrs. Fred Hoppe, Mrs. F. B. Harn, Mrs. Eddie Clauson, and Mrs. J. H. Freeman.

The meeting next Wednesday will be held at the same time and place.

The McConkays Home From Eastern Trip

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McConkay have returned from a motor trip that carried them as far east as Princeton, Ind. They were accompanied east by Mrs. McConkay's mother, Mrs. Annie Bryant, who has made her home with them for some time, and a niece, Miss Lucille Pierce, of Princeton, who had been visiting here for more than a year. Both Mrs. Bryant and Miss Pierce remained in Princeton. Returning from Indiana Mr. and Mrs. McConkay stopped in Corning, Iowa, to visit Mr. McConkay's mother, Mrs. S. W. McConkay.

On the outward trip very hot weather was encountered on the desert, at Baker a temperature of 110 degrees was recorded at 11 o'clock at night. But on the return trip there was quite a change and in the same town the maximum temperature was 74 on the night they stopped there.

It was very hot and dry when they arrived in the east, but the rains came before they left and many of the crops were in good condition, though in some portions the rain was too late to save the corn, which was twisting badly.

Mrs. Bryant stood the trip nicely and is feeling quite well, according to word received by Mrs. McConkay after her return home.

"I guess you're getting a good thing out of tendin' that Smith boy, ain't you, doctor?"

"Yes, I'll get a pretty good fee."

"Well, when you get paid, I hope you won't forget my Willie threw the brick that laid him up."

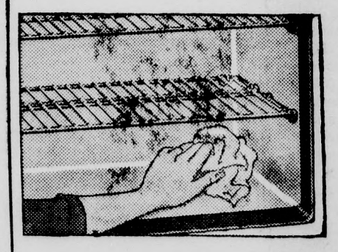

Mrs. Fred—She gave us that ivory statue last Christmas and we ought to reciprocate.

Fred—Reciprocate? You mean retaliate!

BALL TITLE WILL BE DECIDED IN THREE REMAINING GAMES ON SKED

Etiwanda, Merchants Will Meet Tonight in Crucial Game

Many things may happen in the Upland night ball league.

The remaining games in the final round may result in a tie or may give either the Lemon Growers, Etiwanda or the Upland Merchants the round decision.

Tonight's Upland Merchants-Etiwanda game will have a bearing on the outcome. And next Tuesday's battle between the Merchants and the Lemon Growers will add an interesting chapter in the result with the Etiwanda-Triple A battle next Friday likely to decide things.

As for tonight's contest, it will be a pitchers' battle and a Merchants win would put Glenn Atwood's men out in front, with the team facing the irate Lemon Growers a few days hence. Etiwanda has already surmounted the Growers' obstacle. If the Merchants are also removed, that would give Al Utman's nine clear sailing until next Friday, when the phantom Triple A's would be played. Al Holmer is bringing his team along for a final flash of style, with the Triple A's no longer a set-up, but a mighty uncertain team for any nine to face.

And so the situation is slightly muddled as to predicting the final outcome, with all but the Triple A's eligible for the title.

Both teams in tonight's game have a pair of pitchers, with Kemp likely to do most of the duty for Etiwanda. Either Glenn Calloway or Jake Voth will twirl for Atwood's nine.

Triple A Twirler Loses Game on Wildness—Growers Win 5 to 4

By George Smallwood

Good and bad twirling by one pitcher and the average pitching by his opponent, returned the Upland Lemon Growers to the win column Tuesday p. m., when Cy Gunstream steadily pitched his way to a 5 to 4 victory over the Ontario Triple A's. The effectiveness of both pitchers is cited by figures in the total hit column as both teams amassed a mere 16 safe hits. The real story of the game lies in the performance of "Babe" Kling, who appeared on the mound for Manager Holmer.

For three straight stanzas "Babe" twirled masterful ball, that is when he could keep the horsehide from going wild. He registered nine consecutive strikeouts in the opening three frames; but his wildness of four bases on balls in the second forced Lou Patton across home plate for the first and second round champions' initial tally. From then on his wildness continued and with the aid of two errors the Lemonmen plugged away to sew the battle safely away in the final innings. Kling, however, added enough strikeouts as the game progressed to set a new season record of 17. None of the Lemon Growers' runs were declared earned and nary a Grower batter could lift one of Kling's offerings beyond a single.

Gunstream, on the other hand, who was seldom in hot water, allowed but five bases on balls, no wild pitches, and held the southerners to nine scattered blows. Ben Sheppard, Lou Patton, and Art Waterman had the best success with the willow; each clouting better than 500 per cent. Manager Ted MacLaren made his debut in the eighth when he replaced John Meek in left field.

Rabbit Breeders To Adopt Code at Picnic on Sunday

The San Bernardino County Rabbit Breeders association will hold a mass meeting at the K street park, formerly known as Lytle creek park, in San Bernardino, on Sunday, Aug. 12, at 10 a. m.

The purpose of this meeting is to adopt a code for rabbit breeders in order to cooperate in the NRA movement. This meeting will be of vital interest to every rabbit breeder and all are urged to attend whether they belong to any club or not. It will be a picnic gathering and all are asked to bring their lunches. Speakers will be present to explain the proposed code.

At a recent meeting of rabbit breeders in Fontana, held at the U. S. rabbit experiment station, 200 delegates were present from all parts of Southern California. At that time the proposed code was read and it is expected that favorable action toward its adoption will result at Sunday's gathering.

UNTIL WE LEARNED BETTER

Until we learned better, we used to mix wood and steel in our car bodies and wheels.

It was the best way to make bodies--then. But the state of the art has advanced.

Of course, it is more expensive to make an all-steel body than to make a wooden frame and nail steel panels on to it. The better way involves an initial expenditure of several millions of dollars for new dies, which renders a change very costly. Cars, especially large expensive cars which are produced in small volume, cannot afford this, because the dies cost as much for one car as for a million. That alone explains why all-steel bodies are not used in all cars.

But our basic policy from the beginning is to make a good car better, regardless of cost.

For example, when we discarded wood-steel body construction, it was not because we lacked wood. We still have some thousands of acres of the best hard wood in America. Economy would urge us to use up the wood first, and then adopt the better all-steel body. But we decided that quality was more important than expense.

We weighed the reasons, for and against, before we made the change.

We could see only one reason for retaining a mixed wood-and-steel body --nailing the metal on, instead of welding an all-steel body into a strong one-piece whole. That reason was, it would be cheaper--for us.

Our reasons for adopting an all-steel body were these: A wood-steel body is not much stronger structurally than its wooden frame. In all American climates, wood construction weakens with age. Every used car lot gives evidence of this. Rain seeps in between joints and the wood decays. A car may have a metal surface, and yet not be of steel construction. Under extreme shock or stress the steel body remains intact--dented perhaps, but not crushed.

Steel does not need wood for strength or protection. Wood is fine for furniture, but not for the high speed vehicles of 1933.

In the Ford body there are no joints to squeak, no seams to crack or leak.

The all-steel body is more expensive--to us, but not to you.

By all odds, then, steel bodies seem preferable.

Wheels also have become all-steel. No one argues that an electrically welded one-piece steel wheel, such as the Ford wheel, needs to be "strengthened" by adding wood to it.

The one-piece all-steel body is the strongest, safest, quietest, most durable body made. That is our only reason for making them.

Electric Refrigerators In Demand Here

PRICE INRCEASE IS LIKELY SOON

Local Dealers Handle Many Sales Due to Popular Machines

Many electric refrigerators have been purchased in the Upland district during the summer and many more are likely to be purchased in the next few weeks.

One of the most popular household fixtures on the market, the refrigerators have been purchased here on the largest scale in recent history. Beginning early in the spring, local interest was shown in refrigerators and Upland dealers have experienced a continued increase in demand for the machines. Just prior to the adoption of the sales tax, more refrigerators were sold here than in any other period, according to a survey among the concerns.

That a refrigerator is a necessity is the conclusion of many persons. Being useful, practical and economical the entire year, the refrigerators are looked upon by many as an investment, rather than an expense.

In recent years, manufacturers have conducted a widespread educational program concerning refrigerators, with the result taat this season's response has set new records and it is generally conceded that it will be only a matter of time until almost every home will have an electric refrigerator.

It is generally understood among wholesalers and retailers that in keeping with the increased cost of production and selling, prices of the refrigerators will be advanced soon.

"Commodity prices have risen steadily," says a statement from the head office of a manufacturer. "On many materials used by the factory, the increase has been as much as from 22 to 102 per cent. And indications point to still further increases, which will be higher or a re- for you. Authorities over again ration. If you are planning on investing in an electric refrigerator this year, next year, or in 1935, the wise thing to do is to buy now."

Westinghouse Models Popularly Received

Definite proof that people have faith in the return of better economic conditions, and that the buying power is being restored is found in the approval and acceptance, in the form of sales, of the new master series Westinghouse refrigerator, Amos Colborn, local dealer, said today.

Records of the company show that where in the past there is generally a tapering off of electric refrigerator sales starting in July this condition has been changed this year, and that there has been a healthy increase in sales during the past few weeks.

According to R. C. Cosgrove, manager of the refrigeration division of the Westinghouse Co., public aceptance of the new models recently announced has been exceedingly gratifying.

"The modern woman has become very shrewd and business-like in her shopping habits," the local Westinghouse representative asserted. "She has learned to expect and demand quality in the product she buys, and she also wants all of the latest improvements and features on the particular piece of equipment that goes into her home. Accordingly, to win her approval, any piece of equipment must have all of the best features built into it. It can not feature any one particular trait or service, but must contain all of the essential qualities demanded for adequate food preservation," Mr. Colborn continued.

Kelvinator Users Tell of How They Like Refrigerators

J. H. Siegrist today reported the results of his survey among some of the users of the Kelvinator refrigerators. Asking them what they thought of their machines, Mr. Siegrist reported the following comments:

Kenneth Case, East Arrow highway: "I have used many electric refrigerators, but of all I like the Kelvinator the best."

Mrs. R. W. Gage, East Arrow highway: "I would not want to give up my Kelvinator fast freezing tray and frost chest."

Mrs. H. C. Naylor: "My electric light bill was only slightly increased by my Kelvinator."

Dr. F. N. Davidson, Euclid Ave.: "I bought my present Kelvinator because I was so well pleased with my other Kelvinator and because I saw no other I liked as well."

Mrs. Susan Mehl, Laurel Ave.: "We could not get along without our Kelvinator."

Mrs. Frank O'Brien: "After years of service, our Kelvinator is giving us the most satisfactory refrigeration. I would rather give up my washer than the Kelvinator."

Mrs. George Winter, East Ninth street: "I recently bought my second Kelvinator because of their dependable and reliable service."

Mrs. Kenneth Heinhauer: "I never realized what real refrigeration was until I got my Kelvinator. My Kelvinator is the most useful electrical appliance I have ever used."

Mrs. Fred Roof, 212 E. J St., Ontario: "My Kelvinator pays its own way by food saving. You need not change your family budget to buy a Kelvinator."

Creighton Tells of Crosley Performance

Every detail in the manufacture of the Crosley Shelvador electric refrigerator is carefully watched and accurately checked, according to Roy Creighton, local Crosley dealer. Elaborate and expensive gauges and other instruments together with the most skillful of operators are all employed toward this end, he said.

Conclusive evidence of he inherent qualities that are in the machine is borne out in the long period of trouble-free service each one renders, according to the dealer.

In 1932 there were 15,000 Crosley refrigerators built and sold. Of this quantity the small number requiring service has been almost negligible. From coast to coast, Crosley refrigerator owners are enthused over the dependable performance their electric refrigerators are giving.

WOMEN TELL OF MANY ADVANTAGES

Electric Refrigerator Makes Possible Savings in Buying, Convenience

Some women buy refrigerators as a matter of convenience and others buy them because their services aid the family in maintaining a small budget, in addition to providing many dishes that could not otherwise be enjoyed.

For example, one local woman said that due to the refrigerator she is able to buy foodstuffs once a week at advertised prices and in doing so she saves money. This saving is enough to offset the small operating cost of the machine, she said.

Another woman told this week of her experience on a recent vacation. She planned to be at the beach for approximately a week, so she prepared enough meat and other food for her husband prior to leaving. On the afternoon of her return, eight days later, she found enough foodstuffs still in the refrigerator for the family meal that evening. "That just shows you how long the machine will keep the food and how convenient it is," she added.

A woman recently made the objection to a local refrigerator dealer that she couldn't buy this year because the family budget did not provide for it, but that she expected to buy next year. The woman, however, was told that possession of an electric would not disarrange the budget and would result in an actual saving over a period of time.

Mehl Hardware Is Dealer for Popular Norge Refrigerator

Norge electrical refrigerators have many features not possessed by other machines, according to the Mehl Hardware Co., dealer for this product in Upland.

These exclusive features, in addition to the usual advantages of the average refrigeration machine, have resulted in much interest and an increase in sales, it is reported. Ernest Mehl said that just prior to Aug. 1 many persons took advantage of the Norge's facilities and invested in the machines just prior to the sales tax provisions becoming effective.

Among the most enthusiastic refrigerator owners are persons with Norge boxes, according to reports from some of the users.

"Cooking With Cold" Demonstration Draws Many to Clubhouse

Many housewives gathered at the Upland Woman's club house Tuesday afternoon to see Mrs. Fay Newson, well known home economist, "cook with cold," under the sponsorship of J. H. Siegrist, local refrigerator dealer.

She explained that the old conception of a refrigerator as being merely a storage place for foods has given away to a new interpretation due to the many advancements incorporated in the new Kelvinators.

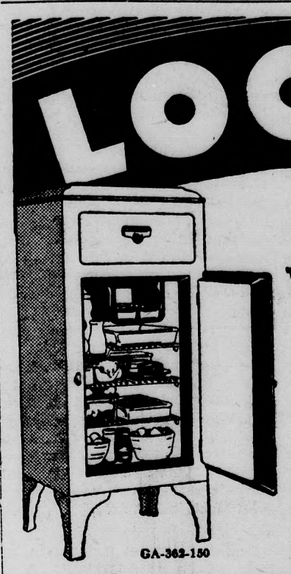

"Ice cubes in sufficient amount to meet all emergencies, freezing of desserts and salads, storage for ice cream and sherbets—all made possible by the new Kelvinators, which were designed to fill every refrigeration need in the modern home."

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the meeting was the guessing contest on the fast freezing tray, in which boiling water was drawn to a temperature of thirty-two degrees in 15 minutes and 45 seconds. Prizes were won by Mrs. Fred Williams and Mrs. James Hendricks.

As those present were so well pleased and eager that more of their friends may hear Mrs. Newsom, Mr. Siegrist, local Kelvinator dealer, may arrange for a similar demonstration in the near future.
